Founded in 2002, Cohen & Gresser's New York office is led by firm-wide managing partner Lawrence T Gresser and serves as the firm's headquarters.

Our New York office is particularly strong in securities litigation and arbitration, international arbitration, regulatory investigations, patent litigation, and M&A transactions. Our lawyers regularly handle complex litigation, investigations, and transactions for major financial institutions and Fortune 500 companies throughout the world. Our attorneys have been recognized in a wide range of publications, including Chambers, Legal 500, and Benchmark Litigation, and half of our attorneys have been named as New York Super Lawyers or Rising Stars.

We work closely with the lawyers in our other offices on cross-border litigation, investigations, and transactions, and we regularly assist international clients doing business in the United States on a wide range of U.S. legal and regulatory matters.
