Anna Milleret-Godet's practice focuses on employment law and social security law. She advises French and international clients in various aspects of employment law, with particular expertise in strategic reorganization files in the context of mergers and acquisitions, relocations and mass layoffs involving the implementation of employment protection plans. Anna also has a strong and innovative expertise advising companies on the evolution of the employees' working conditions (whistleblower protection, internal investigation, remote work and flex-office, data protection and privacy etc.). She also assists senior executives in the negotiation of their departure. Anna also has experience in litigating on behalf of her clients in the context of complex and high-risk litigations.

She is regularly recognized by The Legal 500 in the Employment category. She was also recognized as part of a "rising team" in collective bargaining during the 2020 law trophies.

Prior to joining the firm, Anna was an associate in the Paris office of Dentons. She is a graduate of the University of Paris V and the University of Lyon and is fluent in English and French.

She is a member of AmCham, FABA, Avosial and ANDRH.

She regularly teaches at DJCE of University of Lyon III and Nancy.

Regularly advised a major French bank in connection with litigation management involving the Labor Relations Court and in the negotiation of agreements.

Represented a pharmaceutical company in the implementation of a voluntary redundancy plan.

Represented a French subsidiary of a global IT training and management group in a dispute concerning an employee's use of professional email.

Regularly advised a company in the ceramic industry in the day-to-day management of human resources, labor and social security law litigation, and the implementation of a collective bargaining agreement with employee representatives.
