Rishi Solan is Special Counsel in Cohen & Gresser's London Office. He is a member of the firm's Corporate group and leads our family office advisory practice in London.

Rishi brings extensive experience in M&A, equity fundraising, corporate governance, and strategic advisory. He advises publicly-listed and privately-held companies, high net worth individuals and family offices, institutional investors, and healthcare firms across sectors including financial services, life sciences, and technology. His practice focuses on high-value transactions, mergers and acquisitions, and capital markets.

Rishi also leads a corporate advisory firm specializing in high-stakes transactions and strategic projects. Previously, he served as General Counsel at an FCA-regulated investment firm, overseeing legal and compliance functions, advising on fundraising and regulatory matters, and supporting high net worth and institutional clients. He also acts as a board advisor to a healthcare company, providing legal, commercial, and regulatory guidance. Rishi gained significant experience at international law firms, managing M&A, IPOs, and capital markets projects.

Rishi holds a Master of Laws (LL.M.) from the University of Warwick and completed a Bar Vocational Course (BVC) and Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL) from BPP Law School. He earned a B.A., with honors, from Boston University.

Rishi speaks English, Hindi, and German.
