

Sophia Soejung Kim is an associate at Cohen & Gresser LLP's New York office. Sophia represents clients in white collar criminal and regulatory investigations, internal investigations, complex commercial litigation, and international arbitrations.

Sophia has represented companies and individuals in sensitive investigations and prosecutions involving the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), securities fraud, commodities fraud, insider trading, and other white collar matters.

Sophia is a graduate of Columbia Law School, where she was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar and a member of the Columbia Journal of Asian Law. She received her B.A., magna cum laude, from Ewha Womans University in Seoul, Korea, and graduated valedictorian from the Graduate School of International Studies at Ewha with an M.A. in International Business. Sophia served as a Staff Reporter for two years at the International Herald Tribune-JoongAng Daily in Seoul.

Super Lawyers has recognized Sophia as a Rising Star each year since 2017. Sophia is fluent in Korean.

Activities and Affiliations

Regional Governor (NY), International Association of Korean Lawyers (IAKL)

Sophia Soejung Kim
Associate, New York

+1 212 707 7260
sjkim@cohengresser.com

Practice Areas

White Collar Defense and Regulation,
Litigation and Arbitration, Commercial
Litigation, Securities Litigation,
Arbitration and Mediation, Korea
Practice

Education

Columbia Law School (J.D. 2011);
Graduate School of International Studies at Ewha (M.A., valedictorian, 2006); Ewha Womans University (B.A., magna cum laude, 2004)

Bar Admissions

New York State; U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of
New York