Korea Practice

Throughout our history, Cohen & Gresser has successfully represented major South Korean clients, including Samsung Electronics, LG Electronics, SK Innovation, SK Global Chemical, KCC Corporation, TG TriGem Computer, and Halla Group, in a wide variety of matters. Attorneys in our Korea Practice have lived and worked in South Korea and the United States, and held senior in-house positions at preeminent Korean companies, making us uniquely positioned to provide comprehensive, cross-border business and legal counsel. Our team regularly advises on class action defense, international arbitration, and disputes involving products liability, trade secrets, patents, and breaches of fiduciary duty, among other issues. We routinely counsel clients on corporate governance and intellectual property and licensing matters, and international business transactions.

Our South Korea practice is led by partner S.C. Sohn, who has over twenty years of experience advising major companies. S.C. is based in the U.S. but travels regularly to South Korea.
